GOSSIP OF THE CABINET

What the President's Official Family Have Been Doing, Where They Spent the Summer and What Their Plans Are for the Immediate Future.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 5.—Washington will soon be in the full swing of governmental work under the direction of the heads of the departments.

During the summer vacations, the Cabinet officers were frequently consulted on official matters, and important business has been transacted by some of them, notably Attorney-General Wickersham, who had offices in operation in New York City. Annual reports of the various branches of the executive service are being prepared, and there are a number of complicated questions which will be threshed out on the return of the Cabinet officials.

Knox at Valley Forge.

Secretary of State Knox, who spent most of the summer at his country home at Valley Forge, is expected in Washington the last week in October. He will consider the Hankow Railway loan question and the reorganization of the bureau of the department, and will decide whether the United States shall protest against the two treaties recently negotiated by China and Japan involving Manchurian issues.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh is at Dublin, N. H., near the White Mountains. Private Secretary Robert O. Bailey is with him, and he has attended to considerable correspondence, and has had an opportunity of shaping his annual report. With the improving situation in the Treasury, the question of the issue of certificates of indebtedness, under the discretionary authority given by Congress has been pressed into the background for the time, but this, together with other matters of financial import, will be discussed in his report. He has been kept closely informed of the Treasury operations through Assistant Secretaries Reynolds, Norton and Miles, all of whom have been to Dublin to confer with him.

When he gets back, he will find great headway has been made in the reducing of the estimates to a minimum. An assistant secretary to succeed Mr. Reynolds, who will resign in order to give his entire attention to the new tariff board, of which he is a member, will have to be named soon, and two new bureau chiefs will take office on November 1. Mr. McClung as United States Treasurer and Mr. Andrews as director of the mint.

Wickersham After A. T.

Attorney-General Wickersham is to participate in the argument of the government's suit against the American Tobacco Company for alleged violation of the antitrust laws, in the Supreme Court of the United States on October 12. Former Assistant Attorney-General McReynolds, who was active in the case in the lower courts, will be associated with him. Mr. Wickersham has some knotty problems on hand, but he has had a chance to consider them while in New York. The proposed legislation of a sweeping character to overcome the weakness of the present interstate commerce law, for which a bill incorporating the administration's ideas has been tentatively drafted, the consideration of antitrust prosecutions, the legal end of the reorganization of the executive departments with a view to eliminating duplication of work by bureaus in different departments, together with other legal problems promise a busy time for the Department of Justice.

Meyer a Fisherman.

The reorganization of the Navy Department with a view to creating a continuous policy is among the questions to be taken up by Secretary Meyer, who has returned from New York, where he attended the Hudson River Conference. Mr. Meyer fished for salmon in Quebec and spent part of the summer at his home in Hamilton, Mass.

Secretary of War Dickinson is at Belle Meade, Tennessee, where he has been called because of the critical illness of his son, J. O. Dickinson. If his son improves Secretary Dickinson will attend the meeting of Presidents

Diaz and Taft at El Paso on October 16 and will accompany Mr. Taft down the Mississippi the last of October. He will take a deferred trip to Porto Rico next month, and in December will inspect the Panama Canal, whose construction is under his supervision.

McLurg's Successor.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, who is due here this week, will leave in a few days to join the presidential party in the West, and in the meantime he is expected to announce the successor of Assistant Secretary McLurg, who has had to remain beyond the time he has fixed for entering into private business. The change, however, will be made before the first of November.

The reorganization of the department, with possible consolidation of the work of the Bureau of Manufactures and Statistics, will be considered among the first problems. A revision of the scope of the Bureau of Corporations' work and consideration of the site of the Philadelphia Immigration station and other immigration questions are on the card.

"In Arizona."

Postmaster-General Hitchcock is in Arizona and is not expected to return before the end of the first week of November. He has attended several State conventions of postmasters in the West, and will join President Taft at Los Angeles. He will accompany the President to St. Louis and thence down the Mississippi to New Orleans.

On his return to Washington Mr. Hitchcock will have awaiting him reports of at least two committees which he appointed with a view to reducing the expenses of the department. He will devote the greater part of November to the preparation of his annual report, in which he will incorporate some suggestions looking to the reduction of the expenses and the increase of the efficiency of the department.

Secretary Wilson, of the Department of Agriculture, after passing the greater part of his summer vacation at his Iowa home, is formulating his annual report. He participated in the irrigation congress at Denver during his absence. His annual report will show the greatest work ever accomplished in a single year in the history of the Department of Agriculture.

Secretary of the Interior Ballinger, now in the West inspecting the great reclamation works, the Indian agencies and other projects, is expected here about November 1. Mr. Ballinger will leave Seattle Tuesday next to continue his inspection work in California and other places. It is understood here that Mr. Ballinger will meet the President during this month and will accompany him eastward.

Coleman—Homes.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] BOYDTOWN, VA., October 5.—In the Episcopal Church at Boydtown at 10 o'clock this morning, under a wedding bell of white roses, and amid the rich luxuriance of ferns and palms, over which shimmered the soft radiance of waxen tapers, Miss Mary Virginia Homes and Charles Wallace Coleman, of Boydtown, were united in marriage by the pastor, Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, Jr.

The bride's attendants, who entered to the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, were as follows: Miss Hattie Homes, maid of honor, in blue chiffon over tulle; flowers, chrysanthemums; Thomas F. Goode, the best man; bridesmaids—Miss Laura Homes, Lucy Homes, Ella Bobbitt and Ella Coleman, dressed in white chiffon, lace garniture and blue ribbons, flowers, white roses; the groomsmen—Frank Homes, N. E. Carter, Fletcher Bobbitt and Fitz Coghill. The ushers were E. L. Gorne, Charles J. Faulkner, Jr., Joel Hall and William Baskerville. The bride entered with her sister, the maid of honor.

The happy couple left on the noon train for a honeymoon trip to parts unknown.

News of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.

A shooting scrape occurred last night about 10:30 o'clock. Joe Caporino, an Italian, who works at Miller & Miller's, is said to have drawn a revolver and shot three successive times at C. C. Burgess, a colored man, who keeps a shoeshop at 1512 Hull Street. Burgess, who has a good reputation, stated that he found his assailant in conversation with Mrs. W. H. Garvis, of 42 Lee Street, last night, a short time previous to the shooting. He thought it strange that the Italian should be talking to the woman whose husband was his friend, and out of respect for her he peered sharply at the two and then passed on. A short while afterwards Burgess, on leaving the store, was confronted by Caporino with a drawn revolver. The latter assayed no words, but he said to have pointed his pistol at the colored man and fired three times. Burgess said he could not understand why he was not hit, as his assailant was close to him.

Italian Is Captured.

Officers Wright and Moore hurried to Twentieth between Hull and Bainbridge streets with a warrant for the man. After a close search through two houses, however, he could not be found. One'sy's saloon was next visited, but no one there had seen him since early evening. A phone message was answered at the police station by a Times-Dispatch reporter at 11:10 last night, no body being in the station at the time, which message stated that the man had been caught and was being held by his intended victim at Twentieth and Hull Streets. Officer Wright appeared and was told of the capture of Caporino. He at once hurried to the place, and the assailant was taken into custody.

Crowds Visit State Fair.

Swarms of people from this city made trips to the Fair Grounds yesterday. The cars were literally choked with humanity from early morning until far in the evening. The universal opinion of those having visited the fair is highly complimentary and that it is far superior to the previous ones. To-day being Richmond Day, and a general holiday, will see large throngs pouring from this city forward. Especially will this be so in regard to the business men, school-children and the masses of people who will be attracted by the numerous places and factories will shut down for the day so that the employees may see the wonders of the fair. The fair is a highly commendable and the list of exhibitors in the departments of stock, poultry and pet stock are several representatives from here.

Manchester Exhibitions.

In the list of standard roadsters are the names of B. W. Martin, of Chesterfield county; C. T. Jones, E. T. Bass and H. C. Jones, of the city. In the exhibition under general purpose Clarence Walden and Charles T. Jones from this city are exhibitors.

Sick Headache And Indigestion

The Former Is Very Frequently Caused by the Other.

The pneumo-gastric nerve connects the stomach region directly with the brain, and when the stomach is out of order the head is almost certain to be affected through reflex or sympathetic nervous action from here.

The headache of dyspepsia and indigestion is of every variety, from the dull and least defined to the most acute, burning, or stabbing, which is a mass of the brain seems racked with anguish; at others, the ache is confined to the back or front part of the head. The victims of this usually of confused character, and is often accompanied by dimness of vision and a mild vertigo, or so-called "rust of blood" to the brain. The victims of this symptom complain of a "swimming" or "lightness" in the head and dizziness or giddiness, and in some cases the head is still and specks or flashes of light before the eyes.

Persons subject to indigestion and other stomach troubles are very frequent sufferers from headache, and in numerous cases a sick headache is the only noticeable symptom of the trouble. In others, there are stomach manifestations as well.

The majority of people regard this headache as a separate disease, instead of a symptom of stomach disease, which it usually is, and they attempt to treat it separately, and make the mistake of endeavoring to obtain relief through the use of headache powders, tablets, pills and seltzers, the use of which is extremely dangerous, as many of them contain such powerful depressant drugs as acetanilid, phenacetin, antipyrine, caffeine, etc., which press the heart, brain, stomach centres and lower arterial pressure; and many a person with a weak heart has become dangerously ill shortly after taking one of these headache remedies. They also interfere with the digestive processes, and actually make the dyspepsia worse than before.

In order to get rid of the headache of indigestion—and most headaches are caused by stomach trouble—one should endeavor to prevent its return, remove the cause, and the headache effect will soon be relieved.

STUART'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS do not cure the symptoms; they cure the cause of the headache, which permanently removes the symptoms. They digest every atom of food in the stomach, cure all forms of stomach trouble, and the headache and every other disagreeable symptom and untoward disturbance.

Don't make the mistake of trying to cure your dyspeptic or nervous headache through the use of headache powders, tablets, etc. Use common sense, good judgment and one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, and you will find relief and cure of your headache with the relief and cure of the stomach.

Purchase a package from your druggist to-day for 50 cents and send us your name and address, and we will forward you a trial package free.

Kentucky Solon Fined

Charged in Forty-five Warrants With Illegal Liquor Sale.

DANVILLE, KY., October 5.—Colonel E. W. Lillard, representative of this (Boyle) county in the Kentucky Legislature, was fined $3,300 in the Police Court in this city on forty-five warrants charging him with the illegal sale of liquor. Colonel Lillard, who has been proprietor of a drug store in Danville for many years, was allowed to pay $300 as full satisfaction of judgment under the condition that his store be closed permanently. "Bunk" Raum, a negro, was fined and paid $1,500 for a similar offense, his fines during the last nine months aggregating $1,800.

Colonel Lillard was one of the four Democrats in the Legislature who voted for the Republican senatorial nominee, W. O. Bradley, and by their votes elected him to the United States Senate over Former Governor J. C. W. Beckham, the Democratic caucus choice.

ROOSEVELT TROPHIES ARE STILL UNPACKED

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 5.—There will be no exhibition of the Roosevelt trophies of the hunt in the new National Museum Building during the coming winter because no decision has yet been reached as to how they will be mounted and grouped.

Taxidermists were to have been set to work promptly to mount the specimens. Discussion was held as to whether there should be groups or single mounts of the animals that had crossed the former President's track and had fallen under his fire. Now it is apparent that the realization of this program will require more time than was thought necessary.

The casks and boxes in which the trophies were shipped to this country are still stored in the basement of the Smithsonian Building. They were taken out and examined to see that they had not been injured during their

CONGO SUIT DECIDED IN MINISTER'S FAVOR

LEOPOLDVILLE, BELGIAN CONGO, October 5.—Rev. W. H. Sheppard, an American missionary, was acquitted today of the charges of libel brought against him by one of the Congo concession companies which has a monopoly of rubber gathering in the Kasai region.

Two American missionaries, Rev. W. H. Sheppard and William Morrison, were charged with "calumnious denunciation" and libel by the concession company referred to in the above dispatch. The suit was based on an article which appeared in the Kasai Herald. The charges against Mr. Morrison, however, were withdrawn. The company sought to recover $5,000 from Mr. Sheppard.

In substance, the charges made by the missionaries were that Congo officials levied upon the natives oppressive so-called taxes to be paid in rubber; that whole villages, including women and children, are impressed by the soldiers for gathering the rubber; that they often are compelled to travel many miles to the rubber forests and to sleep there for more than a week under unhealthy conditions; that they are cruelly punished for failure to meet the taxes imposed, and that so large a proportion of their time is taken for gathering these taxes that they are unable to cultivate crops and raise food necessary for their support.

The Belgian government holds half the stock of the Kasai Company, and a majority of the company directors are Belgian authorities, so that the suit has been considered as practically one by the Belgian government against the missionaries.
